Mrs. Evelyn Jahncke has friends in Covington who, she says, can do a few things for me, like tracing down property ownership. This morning she also told me that she worked for Guy Banister for a while, probably 1963-4, and often saw "shivvering" men there, men she couldn't bear to look at. In the course of her mention of this, she did specify one who was usually in need of a shave and another I take to have been Ferrie.

She has acopy of Hubie Baduea's book she is lending me.

She also reports the rmor that Delphine Robert's mother is raising as her own a child that is not and may be Delphine's.

One of her friends in Covington is Mr. Norma Core, who is in the court house.

She reports that after he got fired, Herman Liveright moved into the genereral area of the Cuban camps. Because of his background, it is possible, if this is true, that Liverright may have noted things that could be of interest.
